

2007 Clarendelle Blanc 75 cl. bottles

Clarendelle blanc reflects the subtle, well-balanced structure of white wines from Domaine Clarence Dillon. It features all the complexity and mystery of its illustrious cousins.

While most white wines are made from a single grape variety, such as Chardonnay, Clarendelle Blanc is a skillful blend of the three traditional Bordeaux varieties. The art of assemblage combines the best traits of these three varietals to produce a unique and harmonious composition.

The 2007 vintage:

Intensive mechanical as well as labor-intensive operations such as leaf thinning and green harvesting were needed in order to achieve optimum results.

Fortunately, the weather was warm and sunny when harvesting started.

2007 is now recognized as an outstanding vintage for dry white Bordeaux wines. The cool summer weather locked in the aromas and maintained a good acidity. Clarendelle Blanc is perfect illustration of the typical characteristics of the vintage.

The superb quality of the Domaine's wines inspired us to be very selective and demanding during the blending process to put forward the harmony between freshness and fruit..

Grape varieties:

24% Sauvignon Blanc

64% Sémillon

12% Muscadelle

Tasting notes for 2007 Clarendelle:

Clarendelle Blanc is a beautiful golden-yellow color. Elegant and full-bodied, it is strongly marked by Sémillon from the Graves. The wine has aromas of beeswax and honey, as well as a natural richness that does not preclude freshness.

The Sauvignon Blanc part of the blend contributes crispness as well as aromas of box hedge, lemon, and menthol.

Ripe Muscadelle adds floral notes along with hints of candied orange and fresh Muscat grapes.

A small proportion (10%) of the blend is barrel-aged. This complements the fresh fruit and is extremely attractive.
